REHABILITATION

498. Rusk, Howard A.

New hope for the handicapped; the rehabilitation of the disabled from bed to job, by Howard A. Rusk and Eugene J. Taylor. Foreward by Bernard M. Baruch. New York, Harper & Brothers, c1949. 231 p. $3.00.

"Through the case histories of the handicapped with whom they have worked, the authors tell the story of the rehabilitation and the concept of treatment of the 'whole man'. They discuss the factors which prevent the advantages of modern rehabilitation and retraining from being brought to all disabled civilians and warn of the growing prevalence of chronic disease resulting from an aging population. They point out why hiring the handicapped is good business, and discuss the medical, social, economic and emotional aspects of disability in its effect both on the nation and the disabled individual."

SPEECH CORRECTION

499. Wood, Alice L.

Sound games; speech correction for very young people. New York, E. P. Dutton & Co. (c1948) 103 p. $1.50.

"Sound Games is a pioneering book which offers a unique technique for correcting speech defects. Gradually evolved while working with thousands of speech cases over a quarter of a century, this method is based upon sound fundamental laws of psychology. The child is led into corrective exercises through stories, games and delightful jingles, which through repetition of the troublesome sounds give practice - and 'fun while learning'."

TUBERCULOSIS

450. Kiefer, Norvin C.

Present concepts of rehabilitation in tuberculosis; a review of the literature, 1938 - 1947. (New York) National Tuberculosis Association (c1948) 398 p. $3.50.

Bibliography: pp. 307-354.

"With few exceptions, the literature reviewed was published from 1938 to early 1947. Nearly one thousand articles were read and abstracted. It was decided to consider the material under fourteen main headings, and to classify the information in each of the abstracts accordingly. Four main sources for the location of articles were utilized: the Quarterly Cumulative Index Medicus; the Index Catalogue of the Surgeon-General's Library and Current List of Medical Literature, Army Medical Library; the bibliography of each of the articles read; and the many reprints and reports which are sent to the Tuberculosis Control Division of the U. S. Public Health Service."—Intro.

BULLETIN ON CURRENT LITERATURE

The publications listed in this issue have been received by the library of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults and are available for loan. The library does not stock copies for sale. Prices are listed, when known, so that orders may be addressed directly to the publishers. The publications are listed by author and title under the subject heading by which the item is cataloged and filed in the library. The subject headings in the Bulletin can be identified by being in all-capital letters.

Because the library may have only a limited number of copies of any item listed, and because of the great number of requests frequently received, it is suggested that the resources of local libraries be investigated first. The services of the library are extended to organizations and individuals whose local resources are so limited as to make information otherwise unavailable. It is understood that the borrower agrees to pay shipping charges for sending him the loan material and for returning it to the library.
